

ABSTRACT

A system features (a) enabling electronic posting of a performance that expresses a position of a party on an issue, (b) storing the posted performance digitally, (c) enabling at least two different
5 individuals at two different locations to observe at least portions of the performance, and (d) enabling each of the individuals to post electronically feedback relating to the persuasiveness of the performance of the party with respect to the issue.